George D 5.0 out of 5 stars Part II has a nice guide on new abilities but as far as a guide for each of the fifteen missions, it divides the mission with a step by step of how to go through the mission with little windows into what you can expect to see along the way. This is especially helpful if you want to attempt to complete the mission by a different method. Of course, the game is somewhat open ended within each mission. I often found myself going different routes than the guide suggests, but even then, the suggestions made by the book are valuable. Note that this covers both the base game and the expansion, which makes it a good value. Unfortunately I have done all the steps that Plokite has said, it did not solve the issue. I have also restarted the same and reinstalled it, also it keeps on giving me the same problem. So, would you recommend me to do something else. Thank you so much in advance. There are 2 possible reasons for this problem. You have old video drivers. Reinstall the game. There are 2 types of mismatch shortly after match start and later in midgame. Make sure everyone in the game is using the same version of the mod and is not using any file modifications or cheats.

Some special multiplayer maps make map-specific modifications. Players have to exit and restart Zero Hour in order to fix this mismatch. The midgame mismatch can be caused by coding errors which we fix with new releases and the poorly programmed game engine which allows mismatches to occur randomly without any obvious reason and does not give any mismatch logs for us to analyze. We have to deal with it. This bug is connected with game Just don't exit the game when playing with allies. If it happened, you can fix it this way: destroy all Command Centers. It happens sometimes when you exit to Windows and return to game. It is fixed this way: If you are playing as GLA and you don't see your special powers inside, you have to build a Command Truck from Factory as your first building as GLA. You cannot build strategy centers, super Most buildings and units are unlocked. There can be 2 possible reasons. First, you use unfinished. Finish your multiplayer map or you probably tried to install the mod manually. A clean reinstall will fix any corrupted Zero Hour folder. It happens sometimes. The reason is unknown, but it is connected with Shellmap. You can turn off Shellmap to avoid this. This is all. Shellmap will be replaced with a splash screen and the game will load faster. You try to start a skirmish or multiplayer. You switch to unofficial maps it crashes. It does not even show you the list of maps. You installed too many maps or some of them are corrupted. I recommend to leave the maps you want to play now and you try to start a skirmish or multiplayer. Loading process starts and crashes. The map you selected is not adopted for Contra. Try another one. If you want to record correct replay, do not use restart button. It will solve the problem. Set screen resolution you need, save the file and start the game.

Everything will work properly if your video card supports new resolution. We have a very simple fix for you. Press Esc, go to Options and just click Accept. You will now have your audio back. While still in LAN lobby, click on Create Game, then go Back to the LAN lobby and your ghost will disappear from the game you were trying to join. If you are getting triangular graphics glitch, that one is not caused by your video drivers. Try disabling Heat Effects in Custom settings and reducing Particle Cap. Your installation might be corrupted and a clean reinstall is required. In the future I will also create a guide for Windows 7.
